

Exercise 4.3 – MongoDB Shell

Using the courses textbook as a guide, complete the following

1. Start the MongoDB shell and take a screenshot
 - a. Enter: mongo
2. Create a new function and name it helloWorld
3. The body of the helloWorld function should return a String value of “Hello World”
4. Call the helloWorld function and take a screenshot
5. Create a new function and name it myWorld
6. The body of the myWorld function should return a String value of “You are now in <YourLastName>’s world!”
7. Call the myWorld function and take a screenshot
8. Combine both images in a single world document and include your name, date, and assignment